

Various poems
regarding little critters
and insects alike

Written and Illustrated
By C.Luke

A collection of various haikus about insects and other nonmammalian critters.

Due to technical difficulties and artistic liberties some haikus
may not follow the usual 5-7-5 syllable format.

A handful of poems previously featured in the 1st edition have unfortunately been removed due to dissatisfaction with the writing's quality.

Apologies.
God I love critters.

1 - The Wasp

Tiny wasp so cute
It gives chase to my sweet treat
I fall from the stairs

His bad opinion
Caused a little deception
My wasp assassination

2 - The Isopod

“My favorite food?”

I have a favorite food

It is rotten wood

I am blue da-ba

Dee-da-ba-doo I will die

Da-ba-dee da-ba-doo

The lobster suffers

But I, humble isopod

Fare fine on the land

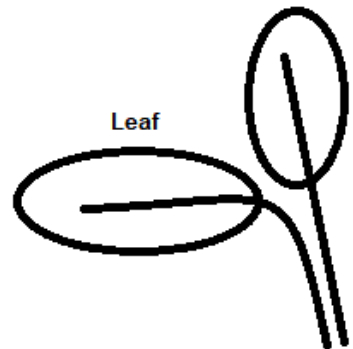

Humble Isopod

3 - The Bumblebee

The bumblebee flies
Though it collides with a leaf
And gets sent astray :(

The Bumblebee

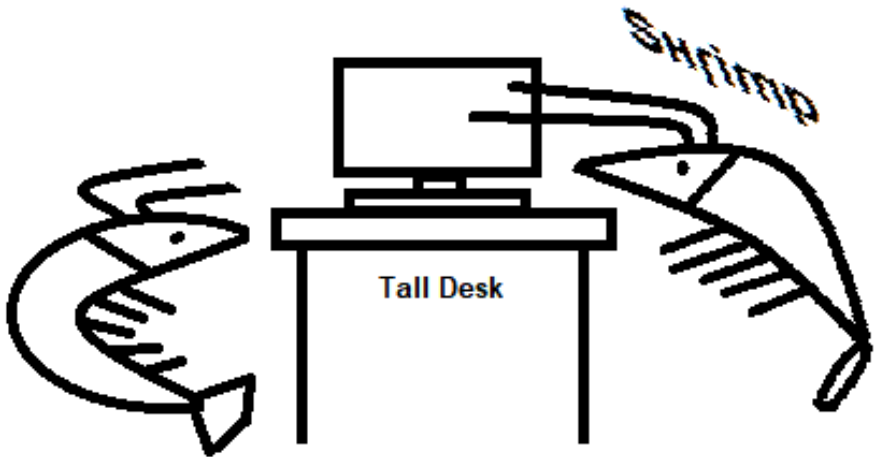

The bee went shopping
And it purchased nectarines
Couldn't find nectar

4 – The Shrimp

Shrimp at a tall desk

The height is stationary

C to (

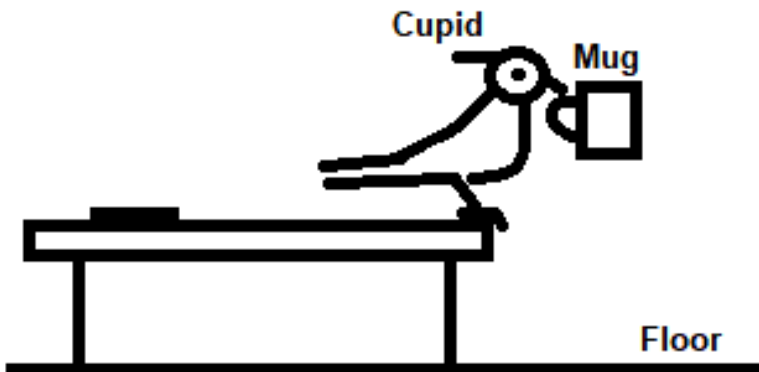

5 – The Bird (Unspecified)

I am a cupid

The mug and floor are lovers

I will make them kiss

Poems Explained

I guess this is extra commentary or reading comprehension and my interpretation.

1.1 – Tiny wasp so cute

I think wasps are cute but fear for my life when encountering them, in this poem I am shown dying to one of them. The wasp ate from my treat after the fact too.

This poem also inspired the rest of this zine by the way.

1.2 – His bad opinion

Someone shares an opinion which is harmful due to it spreading false or cherrypicked information, said person gets assassinated by wasps. #epicwaspwin

2.1 – Your favorite food?

Isopods eat rotten wood (and other dead matter.)

2.2 - I am blue

Isopods can be afflicted by iridovirus, they turn a blueish or purplish color before dying to the affliction. Isopods probably do NOT enjoy being blue.

2.3 – The lobster suffers

Isopods and lobsters are both crustaceans which using gills, however, many isopod species can survive on land while lobsters struggle to do so.

3 – The Bumblebee flies

A very sad tale regarding a bumblebee who is catapulted and sent to hell. Nature is cruel.

4 – Tall Desk

A shrimp got a desk and can't c the screen, it's in the position of a C so it has to stretch out into a shape resembling a (

5 - I am a cupid

Birds knock over items too, here one is making a mug 'kiss' the floor. Though the cupid can be interpreted as a cat since I never specified the cupid's species (It's a cockatiel)
